Licence Application FORM A

To be completed by all licence applicants

How we use your personal information – Data Protection Act 2018 ('DPA 2018')

Under the DPA 2018, we must have a legal basis for processing your information – in this case, processing personal information is necessary to perform our statutory duties ('Public Task').

Some of the ways in which we collect and use the information may be through:

- granting and administering of authorisations and maintaining registers
- investigating environmental complaints
- undertaking formal enforcement action
- maintaining our own accounts and records

The personal information we collect and use may include the following: name; address, including postcode; email address and telephone number. SEPA is required, by law, to organise and maintain public registers, and make these registers available for public inspection. We do this by collecting and using the personal information that applicants (or their agents) share in their applications for SEPA authorisations and SEPA permits. After the application form has been processed, some of the information from the form is added to the public register, and becomes available for public inspection. , Signatures, personal email addresses, and telephone numbers are not published, unless publication is statutorily required.

There may be occasions when we are required by law to share your personal information with other organisations, e.g. for regulatory reasons, or because doing so is in the general public interest. Any sharing will be carried out lawfully and securely in accordance with the SEPA Data Protection Policy.

For more information on how SEPA handles personal information, please refer to our general Privacy Policy at <https://www.sepa.org.uk/help/privacy-policy/>

2.7 NON-TECHNICAL SUMMARY

2.7.1 Please provide a non-technical summary of the information provided in your application (see 'Licence Applicant Guidance' for further information on what should be included). If necessary, please continue on a separate sheet.

Mowi Scotland Ltd is applying for a variation to an existing CAR Licence for their Loch Hourm salmon farm. The proposal seeks permission to increase the maximum fish biomass from 2,500T to 3,100T. Additionally, a change in equipment is proposed from the current 12 x 120m circumference pens (1(2 x 2) and 1(2 x 4) configuration) to 8 x 160m circumference pens (1 x 8 configuration). The current feed barge is also proposed to move approximately 20m to the east. A full set of site plans (current and proposed) is attached separately.

Modelling has been undertaken by Mowi to assess the deposition of waste solids from the proposed modification to the Loch Hourm fish farm and is presented in a supporting report (Waste Solids Deposition Modelling Report). It explains the application of the NewDepomod model to describe the deposition of waste solids beneath the pens and in the surrounding environment. Results for organic wastes and in-feed medicines are presented. The report also details the results of the cumulative modelling of waste solids deposition from Loch Hourm together with deposition from seven other fish farm sites identified in SEPA's screening report using a coupled hydrodynamic model. A description of the hydrodynamic model is presented as a separate supporting report (Hydrodynamic Model Description).

A further report details dispersion modelling simulations for application of bath medicines containing the active ingredient azamethiphos at the Loch Hourm fish farm and the safe limits that will comply with environmental quality standards. Additional dispersion modelling for bath medicines containing the active ingredient deltamethrin have been assessed using the modelling tool (BathAuto) and is summarised in a supporting report confirming the safe environmental limits derived. A medicine minimisation statement is also provided as supporting information outlining the fish health and welfare tools and interventions that are available to Mowi Scotland and how their application in an integrated manner reduces reliance on medicine use.

Additional supporting reports to modelling studies:

- Hydrographic Data Report for four deployments ID246, ID253, ID254 and ID275.

Seabed monitoring is carried out towards the end of each production cycle under the terms of the CAR licence to assess compliance with seabed environmental standards. An updated environmental monitoring plan setting out a planned enhanced sampling layout in accordance with SEPA's new regulatory requirements is presented as a separate supporting document.

In addition to continuing environmental monitoring carried out under the terms of the CAR licence further environmental surveying has been carried out to characterise the seabed in and around the area of the fish farm location; to identify the presence of any protected habitats or species within that area; to provide an assessment of the biodiversity of seabed life.

The following environmental reports are provided as supporting information:

- Habitat Assessment Survey – Loch Hourm Fish Farm (March 2021);
- Loch Hourm Seabed Video Survey (March 2021).
